

What is the difference between 'Executive Find' and 'Executive Search'? Just as a pearl-diver has to go to some depths to retrieve oysters, bring them to the surface, open them and search the tissues, so too at Hill Consulting do we search and find pearls in the talent pool. However, it is our challenge to also find the best fit for the job in your organisation. This is what drives our passion for Executive Find. In doing so, our most precious resource is our network of long-term, personal relationships with clients, candidates and business partners.
